LOCAL BREVITIES.

The mornings are hoary with frost.

Probate court is in session this week, and Judge Zwart is busy with the affairs of his office.

Collins is running his hack regularly to all trains, day and night. If you want him to call for you, leave your order at the stable or the Blue Store. He will not forget you.

We understand that the friends of Mr. C. B. Hill are endeavoring to fill the bond of eight thousand dollars necessary to his liberation, and that they are sanguine of success.

Thanksgiving day approaches, and the turkey market of St. Louis is said to be already overstocked at six cents a pound, dressed. But the gobbler has not yet made his appearance to any extent in the Valley.

The mournful tale of last week's elections is told on the inner pages of this issue of the REGISTER. We'll have to caution the "inside" man against ancient history where roosters cannot be fittingly used in extenuation.

The forests surrounding the Valley did not array themselves this fall in the royal colors they are wont to assume at that season of the year. The first frosts were so severe that they turned the leaves brown at once.

There was no excess of criminal costs attending the late term of circuit court. All the State's business was concluded without the delay that too often attends the prosecution of offenders, and yet "no guilty man escaped."

A copious rain—a fall of one and a quarter inches—last Friday relieved the strained condition of things somewhat, but a further supply would not come amiss. Just now the small of snow is in the air, mixed with drizzle.

For the information of our Arcadia correspondent we will state that the Presbyterian bell has been doing duty for the school bell, the latter having been out of order. But it is now repaired, and the old familiar tinkle is again heard.

DIED. At the residence of his parents, four miles west of Ironton, on Tuesday, November 12, 1895, at 2 o'clock a. m., Walter A. infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Childers, aged six weeks. The funeral took place Wednesday at 10 o'clock a. m. from the residence of Undertaker Albert, and the remains were interred in the Masonic Cemetery.

Among the recent improvements in this town and outskirts we notice a fine new barn on Mr. Thos. Newman's place, a general refitting at Bro. Hotson's residence, and some additions to the dwelling of Jas. Smith, Esq. Other improvements are showing themselves. If the burnt district were rebuilt, an air of moderate prosperity would pervade the town.

The City Council held a stated meeting last Monday afternoon, and considerable business was transacted. The settlement with the Marshall, however, was delayed because that officer did not put in an appearance, and a special meeting was called for the purpose of settling with him, and he is required to be present at that time—Friday, Nov. 15, 1895, at 7 o'clock p. m.

John Chamberlain of Knob Lick will be in the vicinity of Ironton on the 20th inst., with a corn-husker and shredder, being engaged to husk and shred the crops of several farmers in this section. He will be at W. A. Fletcher's in Arcadia on the 21st and for several days succeeding, and all those wishing to see the machine at work are cordially invited to be present.

We regret to learn that Sheriff O'Neal is yet a pretty sick man, and is in probability a long time before he will bring him around all right. His affliction is a disease of the throat, which, while not usually dangerous, is very painful, and requires care, attention and patience for its cure. Mr. O'Neal is a competent, faithful official, and we all hope to see him resume his duties at an early day.

"Uncle" George Saxton, the genial traveling salesman of the Peters Shoe Co., of St. Louis, arrived at this place last Saturday night, spent Sunday with his old friend, Maj. Chas. G. Goddard, of St. Louis, but now taking his annual hunt and is domiciled on the Clardy farm east of Centerville and on Monday sold our merchants bills to the amount of $300, left for Barnsville in the evening, where he will lay up for general repairs—his wagon being in a condition that prevents him from traveling until the necessary repairs are made.—Reynolds Outlook.

An incidental visit to Mr. Barnhouse's place of business yesterday revealed the fact that that gentleman is filling his stores to their utmost capacity with Dry Goods, Notions, Shoes and Hats, Groceries, etc. While all these departments are complete, we especially noted his great supply of Boots and Shoes of all kinds—suited to every condition and taste. The prices are low as the lowest, while every article is guaranteed to be just as represented. Mr. B. is one of our most successful merchants, and his success is due entirely to his ability and fitness for the line in which he is engaged. We commend his establishment to the public.

Black diptheria is raging in various parts of the country. Where the disease flourishes best there have been no rains for a long time to wash and cleanse the face of mother earth, or where there has been defective drainage, or the water used by the afflicted family has been permitted to become foul. A rain in the nature of a trash mover is a good thing for health. Supplemented by proper municipal care, the danger is not imminent to Ironton.

Announcement for Services at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath: Subject for morning service—"Our children; their need and our need: a note also addressed to the children." Evening service—Subject—"History of Babylon and lessons therefrom." For Graniteville, 3 p. m.—"Run, speak to that young man." Parents are asked to bring their children to the morning service especially.

GEO. H. DUTY, Pastor.

We have noticed large assemblages of birds of various kinds in the Valley this fall. There was almost as much noise at these bird legislatures as in our house of representatives at Washington in the closing hours of a session of Congress, or in our State General Assembly during the discussion of a fellow-servant bill. Will some one of our local naturalists inform us as to what these assemblages mean? Were they discussing the earthquake or the weather?

By reference to Commissioner Meriwether's map, mention of which was made last week, we find that there was shipped of produce from Iron county last year as follows: Cattle, 1431; horses and mules, 20; hogs, 2649; sheep, 542; mixed live stock, 56 cars; flour, 6,759 bbls.; hay, 540 bales; apples, 21 bbls.; fruits and vegetables, 6,135 lbs.; nursery stock, 295 lbs.; dried fruit, 2,920 lbs.; wool, 3,274 lbs.; game, 11,557 lbs.; lard, 12,275 lbs.; dressed meat, 6,162 lbs.; butter, 2,616 lbs.; poultry, 21,993 lbs.; sides, 24,585 lbs.; eggs, 20,520 doz.; granite, 589 cars; stone, 22 cars; iron ore, 40 cars; lime, 2,800 bbls.; wood, 35 cords; coopersage, 37 cars; cross ties, 12,400; piling, 840,000 ft.; logs, 5,000 ft.; lumber, 9,993,600 ft.; small fruits, 515 crates and boxes. Not a particularly bad showing for a poor year and a small county.

Next month the Revision Bible Committee, which began its labors in 1870, and to which the world is indebted for what is popularly known as the "revised version," will have completed and published the revision of the apocryphal books. There was some objection to the revision of this part of the Bible, owing to the fear that the knowledge that they were for centuries regarded as a part of the inspired Scriptures might disturb the belief of plain, every-day people. They are to be published, however, and whoever reads them will compare them with the books which have been pronounced of divine inspiration and draw his own conclusions. While the publication of these books does not compare in importance with that of the revised Bible, it is interesting as being the official completion of a task which is of no small importance to scholars and to the history of literature.

The many friends of Bellevue Collegiate Institute throughout Southeast Missouri will be glad to know that the most satisfactory results are being obtained at this session of the school. The President of the Institute, Prof. J. V. Curdin, is one of the most successful educators of the State, and the school is as well or better equipped with teaching power than ever before in its history. The friends of the Institute who are familiar with its present condition, feel gratified at its greatly increased prosperity and usefulness. It is confidently expected that all the old friends of Bellevue Collegiate Institute will rally to its support. Its enemies have "an other fish to fry." The managers are determined that Bellevue Collegiate Institute shall be in the front rank of educational institutions in Southeast Missouri; they do not propose to take the back track, but to press onward and upward. The friends of the Institute have great cause for rejoicing in the fact that the enemies of the Institute are retreating and the friends are increasing in numbers and zeal. Those wishing catalogues and other information will address Mr. J. V. Curdin, or Hon. H. S. Evans, Caledonia, Mo.

One of the results of the earthquake of two weeks ago, we understand, is a particularly satisfactory to Mr. H. N. Hutchins, living about two miles southeast of Ironton. Several years ago he had an artesian well sunk on his place to the depth of three hundred feet, and a good flow of water was secured. This continued until the 31st, the day the earthquake came. The flow then ceased, and he has not since been able to get any water. The flowing wells in the Valley have not been affected. In this connection we may state that while we had but one visitation, the counties further south had a second shake on the 1st inst., with some not very pleasant results. At Charleston, Mississippi county, the first shock, however, was most serious, and the country round about bears many evidences of its severity. Near Heaton Lake, six miles south of that city, about four acres of ground was sunk and filled with water, forming another lake. Near Bertrand hundreds of mounds of sand piled up, ranging in size from 19 inches to 10 feet in circumference, and the ditches in the neighborhood filled with water, coming from the holes made, there having been no rain to fill them any other way for nearly two months. Near Big Lake, four miles north of Charleston, are two small holes in the earth, from which the water is spouting to the height of three feet. Every brick-laying in the city was busy all the succeeding day replacing flues and chimneys that were shaken down. There is scarcely a house in town that has not needed their services.

Some time ago Dr. H. M. Jones bored an artesian well at his residence east of Ironton. The boring passed through something near three hundred and fifty feet of limestone before the porphyry was reached, it being considered useless to look for water in that formation. The boring showed traces of copper, but not in sufficient quantities to attract the attention of miners. Water of excellent quality came within nine feet of the surface, but the Dr. dug a little chamber in the ground about the well, covered its walls with cement, built a flight of steps to the bottom, and covered the whole affair with a neat, nicely painted wooden building. The overflow from the fountain is conducted to his house, inclusive, and the State Auditor's receipts covering the same. He stated that he had on hand in aggregate some two thousand dollars of the county revenue, and showed the Jury a bank balance of $1911.00 and currency in addition sufficient to cover his indebtedness to the county.

6. F. W. Whitworth, Esq., Treasurer of Iron County, brought his books to the Jury for inspection, and pointed out the various amounts of the several funds in his charge; but the time at the disposal of the Jury rendered it impracticable for them to go over the footings and verify the amounts. For the information of the Jury he stated that the County Clerk had before stated, namely, that the County Court made a settlement with him every three months, and semi-annually they required him to produce and count his cash in their presence. He further stated, that at his last quarterly settlement with the Court he had on hand some $7,000 county revenue and school funds together; and that since his last quarterly settlement he had paid out from the various funds in his charge in aggregate some $8,000, leaving now in his hands in aggregate of some $4,000. And he exhibited to the Jury his bank account, showing a balance due him of $3,112.00, and said that in addition to that bank balance, he had on hand sufficient currency to cover his entire indebtedness to the county.

From the information obtained from the officers whose books and accounts were examined from the books, papers and memoranda submitted to our inspection, and from the checks which the accounts of the County Clerk, Collector and Treasurer impose on each other, the Jury feel assured that under the present corps of county officers, the interests of the public are systematically and carefully guarded, and the administration of our county affairs honestly and efficiently conducted.

Respectfully submitted.

Given at Ironton, Mo., this 2d day of November, 1895.

ROBERT J. HILL, Foreman.

THOMAS JACKSON, Clerk.

Messrs. C. F. Moore & Co., Newberg, Ore., say: "We sell ours of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than all others put together, and it always gives satisfaction." Mr. J. F. Allen, Fox, Ore., says: "I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have handled." Mr. W. H. Hitchcock, Columbus, Wash., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy sells well and is highly praised by all who use it." For sale by all dealers.

Des Arc News.

We have had a fine rain and farmers are happy. E. W. Graves is spending several days at the Keener place. Cicero Lacy has taken a position with Wm. Carter & Co., Piedmont, and has moved his family there. Rev. Tally preached in the Methodist church here Sunday. He was circuit-rider here several years ago. He is now in the tombstone business, having retired from preaching for awhile. The Seventh-Day man is still here, but will close next week. Our local preachers seem afraid to tackle him. They remind me of the hounds around here when they are called out to trail the wolf: they tuck their tails and run off. I wish I was a Beecher or Talmage; I think I would hit him a welt.

We have another preacher moved to our town; he is also a doctor. He will preach at the Baptist church every 3d Sunday; he is a Disciple, or "Campbellite," some call them. The Des Arc folks ought to be good, if preaching will help them any. The Seventh-Day man will baptize several new converts this week, or rather take in several persons that belong already to the other churches. They also have Sabbath School every Sunday.

Several hunting parties are coming down, but there is no game. Tom Howard has leased the railroad company a gravel pit one and a half miles north of Des Arc, for 10 years, for 5 cents a car. ISAAC.

Lack of vanity and color-matter in the bulbs causes the hair to fall out and turn gray. We recommend Hall's Hair Renewer to prevent baldness and grayness.

Arcadia News.

The saw mill is running. A team of horses ran away from Sam Jones the other day and landed over about the Ironton Post Office.

There are several young colored boys, and possibly a few white boys, about this town who seem to be entirely ignorant of the fact that rolling dice is a violation of the law.

We are informed that the earthquake stopped the flow of water in the well on the Hutchens farm. Deep down in the rock is a crevice which was filled with cement and then drilled through. The action of the earthquake probably cracked the cement and let out the water. If such is the case it is possible and even probable that the seam may be filled after awhile and the water flow as ever.

Ellwood Tual has returned from Idaho. Ellwood says it is too cold out there to be comfortable.

Two young gentlemen from Poplar Bluff are calling on the Van Winkle family.

It is the general opinion around here that the people over in Ironton are getting very religious, as the Presbyterian church bell rings about three times every day.

John Young and wife, of Piedmont, are visiting Mrs. Hatten.

Ed Kells has employment at Bonanza in Ironton.

Wedding Bells.

October 30, 1895, at the residence of A. H. Eaton, Esq., Foote, Mo., Frank M. Adams, son of Dr. Adams, of Goodland, to Myra, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eaton.

The ceremony was strictly private, witnessed only by the bride's family and Mr. W. B. Adams and sister, Miss Lucy; with G. G. Adams as best man.

Next day a reception was given at the beautiful residence of Dr. Adams, where a goodly number of friends greeted the happy couple and did ample justice to the excellent dinner prepared for the occasion.

The newly married pair have the best wishes of all their friends. Secure in each other's love, may their joys be many and their sorrows few; may they live in peace and prosperity too.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and cathartic. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old People find it just exactly what they need. Price fifty cents per bottle at Crisp's Drug Store.

Ed. Register—Since my last communication to the REGISTER I have had but little opportunity to gather interesting news items for your valuable paper.

Health out here is exceptionally good, except a few chronic cases, which, of course, we have in all localities, regardless to the general sanitary conditions of the localities.

Farmers are pretty nearly all done gathering corn and a few have been compelled to build new corncribs to hold the enormous yield of corn.

Dr. J. K. Adams, who has been visiting in Ohio, has returned home, and he looks very much rejuvenated. Judge Volner recently had a barn raising. The barn, when completed, will be one among the finest barns in the West End. Including the sheds on all sides of the barn, it will be 54x64 feet.

Owing to ill health J. T. Patterson has closed his school, and is now at home. "The interest in the school," says he, "was first-class, and nearly every patron in the district attended the literary exercises at the close." He was asked to accept the school for next year, at an increase of wages.

The teacher who has charge of the school next year, will find a pleasant school, with as good pupils as can be found in Southeast Missouri.

What a grand revival we have just experienced out here! Bro. Mincher, assisted somewhat by Bro. Shepherd, has just closed a two week series of meetings at the church house at this point. While there not so many conversions as we have seen in many places during a series of meetings for that period of time, it may be truly said that the power of God was with us; and the house was crowded every night with people who were anxious to see and feel what the Lord was doing for us. There were four accessions to the church—two by letters and two by experience and baptism, while three or four others, who were converted, will probably join the United Baptists at Goodland. That the Lord has wonderfully revived his followers in this neighborhood, cannot be disputed; and that we heard a few fine sermons as we have ever heard in this county, we think no one can conscientiously dispute.

Dr. Minor, Lesterville, made a professional call in this section on Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Kidd, Graniteville, visited us on Sunday last, returning home on Monday following.

J. T. Patterson has ordered from A. J. Child, St. Louis, the "Matchless" wagon.

Judge Volner made a trip to Centerville Monday last.

"Turn the rascals out!" the familiar party-cry may be applied to microbes as well as to men. The germs of disease that lurk in the blood are "turned out" by Ayer's Sarsaparilla as effectually as the old postmasters are displaced by a new administration.

Graniteville News.

Ed. Register—On last Thursday evening, about 6:30 o'clock, while Mr. Alex. Anderson and one of his boys were out driving their cows home, one of them became a little contrary and started to run in another direction; whereupon Mr. Anderson undertook to head her off. The evening was very dark, and while running, Mr. A. accidentally fell into an old abandoned quarry hole some eight or ten feet deep, receiving an ugly cut over the right eye, extending down over the cheek; also, receiving other facial abrasions and a considerable shaking up internally.

Mr. Anderson was unconscious for a while, but the little boy quickly summoned assistance to get his father home. Dr. Blanks was sent for to render such medical aid as was necessary, and the patient is getting along nicely at present. A very close call, indeed.

The prospect for work to last much longer than this week looks very poor, though it's hard telling what a few days might bring forth. A very nice social hop was given by our youngsters who are lovers of the art, in honor of Willie Masson's return home from the north on last Friday night.

George Whitman returned from a visit to Cincinnati Saturday last. Mr. Whitman says times are booming over in the porkopolis city; and, judging from the election returns, we should say they were—especially on Tuesday last.

Where the devil are we Democrats drifting to, any way? It's beginning to look as though we are falling into innocuous Gessetude. The old axiom is "If at first you don't succeed, try again."

The fact is too much bossism, too many factions, too much dissension and dissensions from the Democratic party to even think about carrying victory in the smallest principality. We were beaten in strong free silver sections; we were beaten in the sound money sections; and, in fact, we were beaten at every point and place where elections were held last Tuesday, except in Old Mississippi, for which we say, Deo Gratias!

The copious rain of last Friday was quite timely indeed, only we did not get half enough; yet we are quite contented.

There was a time not long ago when our vicinity was barbarous, but now we are well supplied. Two young barbers came to town one day last week and have started a shop in our suburban town, Ghermanville, while Silas Vaughn holds forth at the old stand. As to the period of time our down town fellows will remain, it is hard to tell.

Rev. Mr. Anderson, an M. E. divine of Farmington, filled the pulpit at the M. E. church here last Sunday evening, preaching to a goodly number.

We have a sanctified preacher with us now; he has been preaching several nights. No one has received sanctification yet.

J. M. Morris, of Des Arc, visited this place Sunday.

Quite a number of Glover girls visited Jordan friends Sunday.

Perry Patterson of Marble Creek attended church at this place Sunday. Something must be attracting his attention, as he comes here quite often. He is very careful, Perry, and don't go home with the wrong girl.

N. M. Hughes was here at business Monday.

P. M. McKeele of Carver visits this place quite often. What is there in Jordan for you, Frank?

James Belford of Crane Pond is seen at this place quite often, too. Come right along, Mr. B., as you are a widower.

J. Hodges and Hartford Collins of Sabula passed through this place Sunday.

RATTLEHEAD.

In Memoriam.

Died, At Crystal City, Mo., November 2, 1895, ADDIE FANTA SCHMITZ, aged 2 years and 3 months.

The funeral took place from Grace Church, the services being conducted by Rev. Mills, Episcopal minister. Although practically among strangers (the family being but a short time resident), there was no lack of help and sympathy on the part of kind-hearted neighbors. To these the family make their most grateful acknowledgments.

Little Addie was one of those sweet, serious children, whose little words and ways are wise and sweet beyond the ordinary words of children. While our hearts and home are lonely and desolate, we know that when we are called to go our little one will be waiting with outstretched arms to welcome us home. Her last words were a desire to "meet papa" as she heard him come through the house; may she be the first to meet us in that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

Asleep in Jesus! blessed sleep, From which none ever wakes to weep! A calm and undisturbed repose, Unbroken by the last of foes!

Asleep in Jesus! O how sweet To be so near such a slumber meet; With holy confidence to sing: That death has lost its venom sting!

Asleep in Jesus! Peaceful rest, Whose waking is supremely blest! No fear, no woe, shall dim that hour That manifests the Saviour's power.

Asleep in Jesus! Time no space Affect this precious hiding place! In Indian plains, on Lapland snows, Believers find the same repose.

Asleep in Jesus! Far from the Thy kindred and thy graves may be; But thine is still a blessed sleep, From which none ever wakes to weep.

Mrs. W. B. Meek, who resides at Campionville, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with severe cramps in the stomach, and would be in such agony that it was necessary to call in a physician. Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy she concluded to try it. She found that it always gave prompt relief. It was seldom necessary to give the second dose. "It has not only saved us lots of worry and time," she says, "but also doctor bills." It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." For sale by all dealers.

Disturbed the Minister.

IRONTON, MO., Nov. 13, 1895. It was Wednesday night, Nov. 6th inst., as Parson Henley and his family were about to retire, that a rap at his door and the sound of many feet, caused him to wonder what it meant. He hesitated about opening the door, being desirous to know whether those seeking admittance were friends or foes. This knowledge was forthcoming, for at that moment a sweet voice, joined by many other voices, raised the melody—"We are all here, do thyself no harm." Being thus assured of the friendly disposition of those on the outside, the door was opened and to the delight of the Pastor a fine company came in to greet him on his Birth-Day! A number of presents of various kinds was left; such as will help to keep the wolf away for a number of days. Thank you, friends! God bless you! Come again!

Our Quarterly Meeting for Ironton Circuit, Central Missouri Conference, will take place Sunday, November 24, at Zion Chapel, M. E. Church, near Dr. Jackson, F. E. will be present and will preach for us. All friends are invited to be present.
